DETAILED ACTION

This Office Action is a reply to the Paper filed 15 February 2006 in response to the Non-Final Office Action mailed 11 October 2005. Claims 21-25 were considered in the 11 October Office Action. Claims 23, 24, 27, 30, 31, 34 and 35 were canceled, claims 21, 25, 28 and 32 were amended and claims 36 and 37 were added in the 15 February Paper. Claims 21, 22, 25, 26, 28, 29, 32, 33, 36 and 37 are pending and under consideration.

Priority

Correction of the priority claim under 35 USC §119 and 120 by deletion of reference to applications 10/042,527, PCT/GB00/01560 and UK 9909066.4 from the first line of the specification is acknowledged.

Regarding the 0100889.5 application, receipt is acknowledged of papers submitted under 35 U.S.C. 119(a)-(d), which papers have been placed of record in the file. It is noted that the assignee named in the 0100889.5 filing is the same as the assignee named in the instant case, which is sufficient under 35 USC §119(a).

Response to Amendment and Arguments

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 112

The following is a quotation of the first paragraph of 35 U.S.C. 112:

The specification shall contain a written description of the invention, and of the manner and process of making and using it, in such full, clear, concise, and exact terms as to enable any person skilled in the art to which it pertains, or with which it is most nearly connected, to make and use the same and shall set forth the best mode contemplated by the inventor of carrying out his invention.

Art Unit: 1636

Claims 21, 22, 28 and 29 stand rejected and newly added claims 36 and 37 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 112, first paragraph, as containing subject matter which was not described in the specification in such a way as to reasonably convey to one skilled in the relevant art that the inventor(s), at the time the application was filed, had possession of the claimed invention. This rejection is maintained for the reasons set forth in the 11 October Office Action (pp. 3-7) and herein below in the response to Applicant arguments.

Response to Arguments

In response to the prima facie rejection of record, Applicant has amended the claims such that they now recite that the inhibitor of glucosylceramide synthesis administered is an imino sugar. In the remarks (p. 6, ¶ 2), Applicant states, “In that the claims are amended herein to recite that the inhibitor of glucosylceramide synthesis is an imino sugar, for which the Examiner acknowledges the specification presents detailed written description, Applicant believes that the rejection is nullified”. However, as applicant acknowledges in the sentence immediately preceding the statement quoted herein, the Examiner has actually affirmed only that the specification provides detailed description and reduction to practice of imino sugar compounds capable of inhibiting glucosylceramide synthase.

As stated in the 11 October Office Action (p. 6, ¶ 1; emphasis added), “The specification does not describe small molecule inhibitors of enzymes involved in synthesis of glucosylceramide synthesis [sic] other than glucosylceramide synthase inhibitors...” Thus, contrary to Applicant’s assertion, the Office Action does not acknowledge that the specification provides adequate descriptive support for any imino sugar inhibitor of glucosylceramide synthesis other than inhibitors of the glucosylceramide synthase enzyme.

Art Unit: 1636

Applicant's arguments have been fully considered but are not deemed persuasive in view of the record as a whole. Therefore, the claims stand rejected under 35 USC §112, first paragraph, as lacking adequate descriptive support.

Claims 21, 22, 25, 26, 28, 29, 32 and 33 stand rejected and newly added claims 36 and 37 under 35 U.S.C. 112, first paragraph, because the specification, while being enabling for a method comprising administering an imino sugar inhibitor of glucosylceramide synthase in an amount sufficient to provide the symptomatic relief recited in the claims (i.e., slowing of mucopolysaccharide disease progression, reduction of neuronal glycolipid storage, reduction of pathological features resulting from glycolipid accumulation or improving survival), does not reasonably provide enablement for a method comprising administering a "therapeutically effective amount" of an inhibitor of glucosylceramide synthesis. The specification does not enable any person skilled in the art to which it pertains, or with which it is most nearly connected, to make and use the invention commensurate in scope with these claims.

This rejection is maintained to the extent recited above for the reasons set forth in the 11 October Office Action (pp. 7-17). As clearly stated therein, "the instant specification defines 'treatment' as 'the administration of medicine or the performance of medical procedures with respect to a patient, for either prophylaxis (prevention) or to cure the infirmity or malady in the instance where the patient is afflicted' and paragraph 52 defines 'therapeutically effective amount' as 'an amount of a reagent sufficient to achieve the desired treatment effect.' Thus, construed in light of the specification, the claims are directed to methods of preventing or curing mucopolysaccharidosis or methods comprising administering an amount of an agent in an amount sufficient to obtain prevention or cure in a patient having mucopolysaccharide disease”

(p. 8, ¶ 3; emphasis added). In view of Applicant’s arguments in the 15 February Paper and the teaching at paragraph 137 of the instant specification, which states, “NB-DNJ markedly reduces the pathological features in the model of MPSIIIA”, which is understood to mean that each of the pathological features listed in paragraph 131 were found to be improved upon treatment with NB-DNJ, the specification is considered enabling for providing symptomatic relief. However, for the reasons provided in the previous Office Action, the specification is not enabling for a method that requires administration of an amount of an inhibitor of glucosylceramide synthase sufficient to achieve a “treatment effect” as treatment is defined in the specification to mean prevention or cure. Therefore, for reasons of record, the disclosure is not enabling for the subject matter claimed.

Conclusion

Applicant's amendment necessitated the new ground(s) of rejection presented in this Office action. Accordingly, THIS ACTION IS MADE FINAL. See MPEP § 706.07(a).

Applicant is reminded of the extension of time policy as set forth in 37 CFR 1.136(a).

A shortened statutory period for reply to this final action is set to expire THREE MONTHS from the mailing date of this action. In the event a first reply is filed within TWO MONTHS of the mailing date of this final action and the advisory action is not mailed until after the end of the THREE-MONTH shortened statutory period, then the shortened statutory period will expire on the date the advisory action is mailed, and any extension fee pursuant to 37 CFR 1.136(a) will be calculated from the mailing date of the advisory action. In no event, however, will the statutory period for reply expire later than SIX MONTHS from the date of this final action.

Art Unit: 1636
